

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. PREFACE.

IN presenting the Buffalo City Directory for 1862, the compiler feels it incumbent to say a few words in relation thereto. Although the first to commence the regular annual publication of a City Directory in Buffalo, circumstances, which it is needless to advert to more particularly, prevented him, for the past three years, exercising any immediate personal supervision. The present year is, therefore, a sort of re-commencement, and he presents this volume, not confident of having produced a perfect work by any means. The intelligent observer will notice several new features, which may be received as improvements. The Street Directory shows all the streets in alphabetical order, with their crossings; and where streets were numbered, with their numbers at the crossings; this will be found useful. The insertion of the names of all the members of firms, following the names of firms, will also be regarded as an improvement. The distinguishing of the names of those who appreciate the importance of advertising is but a fair tribute to their enterprise, and here we take occasion to make acknowledgment for the liberal advertising patronage which has been bestowed this year upon our Directory, more we believe than in any one year previous.

The reproduction of the graphic picture of Buffalo, as wrought by Judge CLINTON, some years since, seemed a fitting introduction to the comprehensive sketch by Dr. S. B. HUNT, of the Morning Express. Both these papers will be found useful for reference. The present Directory will be found to contain nearly three thousand six hundred names more than was contained in the Directory for 1861, and quite an increase in names over the work of 1860.

In conclusion, the Compiler would beg the forbearance of all for the shortcomings which may be found in his Directory. A perfect work of this kind is, of course, not expected. With the experience of the present year, he hopes to produce in 1863 a work which will be an improvement on its predecessor.

EARLY HISTORY OF BUFFALO.

BY HON. GEORGE W. CLINTON.

WE had hoped to present our readers with a more complete account of the rise of Buffalo than we now offer for their perusal. But, while our other engagements have left us little leisure for the collection of materials, the necessity of research has not been lightened to the extent we hoped, by the voluntary contributions of others. It is true that the venerable Judge Porter, properly appreciating the importance of minute history, and his obligations as one of the earliest and most influential settlers of Western New York, has placed in the archives of the Young Men's Association an invaluable memoir; — that James L. Barton, Esquire, has favored us with his highly interesting reminiscences, which will, we trust, be put in a convenient form for preservation and reference, — and that pleasing writers have come nearer home to us, and favored us with their recollections of The Streamlet in the City, and Gould's Pond. But these papers, gratifying as they are, contain but little that can be adapted to our use and interwoven in our narrative. We are dissatisfied with the result of our labors. But we believe it contains an outline capable of being filled up and perfected, and that it embodies some facts not generally known, which must have a peculiar interest for our old inhabitants, and be calculated to revive their memory of early events and associations, and prompt them to give to the public the many fleeting traits of our progress which live only in their recollections, and which are in so great danger of falling into oblivion. Buffalo is destined to be one of the greatest cities of the world, and a remote posterity will take great interest, and perchance derive instruction from details which may now seem trivial. Facts bearing upon our progress will gather consequence with the flow of time, if they be not sunk in its current; and now, if ever, is the time to launch them on the stream. But, alas! every day sees them mouldering away uselessly upon the strand. They are perishing with the removal from the world of the men who saw the rude beginnings of our city. This year has deprived us of two old men — of Judge Townsend, who furnished important matter for our last sketch, — and of Ezekiel Lane, who is said to have built the first house on the site of Buffalo, and who lived in all more than a century. We hope the few who are left, will feel that the thinness of their numbers adds to their obligation to contribute their stores to our materials for history, and that the departure of their compeers will be a prevailing incitement to its immediate performance.

In 1772 the Provincial Legislature organized the County of Tryon, which embraced the whole western and middle portions of the Province. In 1784 the State Legislature changed the name to Montgomery, in honor of the illustrious General who fell in the assault upon Quebec, and who was equal in noble daring, but not in fortune, to the gallant Wolfe. Population began to spread beyond the settlements on the Mohawk, but in scanty streams, until 1789, when the old County of Ontario, embracing the whole of what we now term Western New York, was set off from Montgomery. From that time the progress of civilization westward was accelerated, and in March 1802, Genesee was separated from Ontario County. Six years later, in March, 1808, Niagara County became the western extremity of the State. And in April, 1821, Niagara was divided into several Counties, of which the present County of Erie was one.

Sixty years ago a very important event in the history of this State occurred on, or in the vicinity of the site of Buffalo. The Seneca Nation then owned the entire western portion of the State, and the right of pre-emption, or exclusive right of purchase from them, pertained to the State of Massachusetts. From the settlements on the Mohawk westward, the country was a forest, broken only by scattered Indian Villages and a few military posts. Oliver Phelps had purchased the right of pre-emption from Massachusetts, and in 1787, at Geneva, had attempted to acquire from the Indians their title to a portion of the western territory,—but the attempt resulted only in an arrangement to hold a Treaty with them the following year. In June, 1788, he met the Senecas at Buffalo, and concluded a Treaty, by which they conveyed to him the territory lying between the pre-emption line and the Genesee River, and a strip of land on the west bank of that River, twelve miles wide and about twenty miles in depth from its mouth. This acquisition is now known as Phelps' and Gorham's Purchase. It does not appear that any Commissioner on the part of the old Confederation was present, nor that any ratification by the Senate of the United States was deemed necessary to the validity of this Treaty. Indeed this Treaty was nearly simultaneous with the ratification of the Constitution of the United States by the requisite number of States to give life to that solemn Instrument. In May, 1788, but eight State Conventions had assented to the Constitution, and on the 21st day of June following New Hampshire, the necessary ninth State, gave in her adhesion to it—so that the foundations of our local prosperity and of the greatness of our country were laid in the same month of the same year,—and perchance on the very same day. Where the council was held which ended in this sale,—whether here, or at the Indian Village, some four miles up the Creek,—we do not know. It is not improbable that Winne, the Indian trader, had established the little store, in which he figured at this point only three years afterwards, when we first hear of him: But we have no records proving the existence of a domiciled white man here, or any where in this region, in 1788,—except at Oswego and Fort Niagara,—posts which the British still held, and continued to hold until 1796, in contravention of the Treaty which closed our Revolutionary War.

The year 1789 was distinguished by the birth of Oliver Phelps Rice, the first white child born on Phelps' and Gorham's Purchase. He was born, we believe, in Bloomfield, in the present county of Ontario. We would be pleased to know his fate. He may well survive to this time, for, if living, he would be but fifty-nine years old. Population increased rapidly, and in August, 1797, the field of immigration in this quarter was enlarged; for, by the Treaty of Geneseo, Thomas Morris extinguished the Indian title to the lands west of the Genesee River, except twelve tracts which the Senecas retained, and which were known as the Caneadea, Gardeau, Squaky Hill, Little Beards, Big Tree, Conawagus, Tonawanda, Tuscarora, Buffalo, Cattaraugus, Allegany, and Oil Spring Reservations. These lands soon passed into the hands of the Holland Land Company, and, under the liberal policy recommended by their agent, Joseph Ellicott, and adopted by the Company, were rapidly occupied by industrious and intelligent families.

In March, 1791, Col. Thomas Proctor visited the Senecas of Buffalo Creek, as Commissioner of the United States, and from him we have the first authentic notice of this place. He mentions the store-house at Lake Erie, kept by Cornelius Winne. This point was then known as Lake Erie, and Winne was an Indian Trader. This store in which he dwelt was on Washington street near the Canal Bridge, and is the only one mentioned by Col. Proctor, and was probably the only building then erected at this point.

La Rochefoucauld Liancourt, a French nobleman, visited this place and the neighboring Indian villages in June, 1795. There were then a few houses at this point, for he speaks of an inn, where he was obliged to sleep on the floor in his clothes, and in which there was neither "furniture, rum, candles, nor milk." But there were "neighbors" who supplied milk for the traveler;—but the rum and candles were procured from Fort Erie. He says—"Every thing at Lake Erie, (by which name this collection of houses is called,) is dearer than at any other place we visited, for the simple reason that there is no direct communication with any other point." Isaac Weld, Jr., describes Fort Erie, in October, 1796, as "a small stockaded post, adjoining which are extensive stores, and about half a dozen miserable little dwellings." The stores have vanished, the miserable dwellings remain, and the massive Fort which replaced the stockade, has been war-shattered, and is now a ruin.

Judge Porter, in August, 1795, went to Presque Isle, through Buffalo, in company with Judah Colt. He informs us that one Johnson, the British Indian interpreter, Winne, the trader, and Middaugh, a Dutchman with his family, lived at Buffalo.

At Presque Isle they found a party of surveyors, under the protection of a military company commanded by General Irwin, engaged in laying out a village, which has since become the flourishing city of Erie. Col. Seth Reed, the father of Rufus S. Reed, and grandfather of Charles M. Reed, having just arrived, was living with his family in a marquee. In 1796, the only white person residing on the Western Reserve in Ohio, was a Frenchman who had taken up his abode with the Indians at Sandusky Bay.

We also learn from Judge Porter's excellent memoir, that, in 1797, the only road from Conawagus (Avon) to Buffalo, was an Indian trail,—and the only house upon it, was one of a Mr. Wilder, about one mile and a half east of Le Roy. The whole country was in fact a wilderness, and its settlement by the whites can hardly be said to have commenced until the beginning of this century.

Public attention at the East, however, had been directed to the cheap and fertile lands of Western New York, and the Holland Land Company having adopted a liberal system of sales, the wave of emigration flowed beyond Phelps' and Gorham's Purchase, and in 1801 we find the Company laying out the village of New Amsterdam into village lots, outer and inner, any one of which would now be a sufficient fortune for a man of moderate desires.

Although the advantages of our site were appreciated by Joseph Ellicott, and a few enlightened men, at a very early day, it must not be supposed that those advantages were the same which now give Buffalo its pre-eminence among the rising cities of the Lakes. It may well be that Mr. Ellicott's acute mind looked far into the future, but neither he nor any other mortal, in 1800, could have seen the forethrown shadows of present commerce. Supplying the few settlers with necessaries, and exchanging rum, cloth, blankets, trinkets, and ammunition with the Indians, for furs and pelts, remained for a long time the chief modes of trade. The roads in our new country were execrable, and as late as 1812, the slow and circuitous course of trade was directed through the Niagara River to Schlosser, thence by the portage to Lewiston, thence by water to Oswego, and up the Oswego River, through the Oneida Lake and Wood Creek, and across a short portage to the Mohawk River—thence by that river and around the portage at Little Falls to Schenectady,—and thence over the arid pine plains to Albany. If enlarged commerce was anticipated, Buffalo could hardly have been regarded as its probable centre. It had from the first a formidable rival in Black Rock, which outstripped it in the early race, and was not fairly distanced until 1825. Black Rock indeed had the superiority of natural position. While the mouth of the Buffalo Creek was always obstructed by a formidable bar, and sometimes utterly closed by it, Black Rock presented an excellent harbor which monopolized the infant commerce of the Lakes.

It will be remembered, that even after Morris' Treaty with the Senecas, an immense body of cheap and luxuriant territory lying east of the Genesee River, was open to the settler—that no facilities were extended to the adventurous immigrant by steamboats, canals, or railroads, as in our day,—but that, on the contrary, they were compelled to encounter not only the privations, and dangerous distempers of the newly-opened West, but great difficulty and suffering in reaching it; and it will not appear surprising, that in 1807 there were scarcely a dozen houses in the humble hamlet of New Amsterdam. The stream of immigration was swollen, however, with the occupation eastward of the most promising lands, and the construction and improvement of roads, and in 1808, as before observed, this extremity of New York attained the dignity of a County, and was called Niagara.

The act of March 11, 1808, erecting the County of Niagara from the old County of Genesee deserves a passing notice. It indicates either the liberal and just policy of the Holland Company, or the sense of the Legislature of the financial weakness of the new County, and of the interests of the Company, and is a proof also of the prospective importance attributed to New Amsterdam. It also shows that the villagers were probably dissatisfied with the then most inappropriate name of the place, and that it began to be known as Buffalo. Whence that name originated it is impossible to determine.—The change of Tushawa or Tehosoron to Buffalo Creek, undoubtedly preceded it. Our readers will perchance remember some speculations upon this subject in our sketch of that year.

This act provides that the Court House and Jail in the new County shall be erected in the village of Buffalo or New Amsterdam, provided the Holland Land Company, or their agent, shall, within three years thereafter, and at their sole expense, erect in the said village a sufficient and suitable building or buildings for a Court House and Jail for said County, and legally convey not less than half an acre of land whereon the same shall be erected, together with the said building or buildings, for the use of the said County. The Judges of the County were required to examine the buildings, and, if satisfied, to make and record in the County Clerk's office, their certificate that this condition had been complied with. It was also provided by the act, that the first Court of Common Pleas and General Sessions for the said County of Niagara should be held at the house of Joseph Landon, — a public house on the site of the present Mansion House, — and afterwards, until the Court House should be erected, at such places as the Judges of the County should direct.

The Holland Land Company complied with the act; for Judge Townsend, in describing Buffalo in 1811, mentions "the old stone jail on Washington street, and an unfinished wooden Court House." The conveyance of the site of the Court House to the Supervisors of the County is dated November 21, 1810, — and discloses a somewhat singular taste. The land conveyed is a circle, the centre of which was in the middle of Washington (then Onondaga) street, in front of the present Court House. Mr. Ellicott appears to have favored curves as much as triangles, — for, in the original plan of the city, Main street, when it reaches the open space where the Churches now stand, takes a bold circular curve to the West to South Division street, and then resumes its straight course. It was thus, in fact divided into two Avenues, that north of the curve being called Van Staphorst, and the other, Willink Avenue. It is said that Mr. Ellicott contemplated building a mansion for himself in this arc. It would have commanded uninterrupted views through the two avenues above mentioned, and through Erie, Church, and Niagara streets, or, as they were then called, Stadtnitski, Vollenhoven, and Schimmelpenninck Avenues. All these, to our ears uncouth designations, were the honorable appellations of the proprietors, or members of the Holland Company. They were estimable and liberal gentlemen, but we cannot regret that their names have so perished from among us.

Inner lots numbers 184 and 185, described as "those two certain lots or parcels of land lying in the village of Buffalo or New Amsterdam, on which the jail in said village had been erected by the Holland Land Company and accepted by the Judges of said County for the jail of said County," &c., were likewise duly conveyed to the Supervisors by a deed dated Nov. 21, 1810. The jail was of stone, and perchance survived the burning of Buffalo in 1813.

Charles Townsend and George Coit came here as traders in 1811, bringing by the route we have designated, about twenty tons of merchandize — a large stock for that time — at a cost of fifty dollars a ton from Albany. Judge Townsend estimated the dwellings at less than one hundred, and the whole population at about five hundred. There were three taverns and four stores in the place. "A small wooden building near where Mr. Silas Fobes' dwelling now stands" — the corner of Swan and Pearl Streets — "put up for a school house, served also as a town hall, a church for all religious denominations, and indeed for all public purposes." "The mouth of the Buffalo Creek was usually so much obstructed by a sand bar, that small vessels could but rarely enter, and even canoes were sometimes shut out, and footmen walked dry shod across the mouth. Vessels were loaded and unloaded at a wharf near Bird Island, at Black Rock."

Oliver Forward was a Justice of the Peace, and Judge Granger was Post Master and Collector of the Port.

Even at this late period the command of the lake was in the hands of the English, for they controlled the Indian trade, and we read in Weld's Travels, that so early as 1796, they had upon it three vessels of war, of about 200 tons burthen, and carrying from eight to twelve guns each; besides a number of merchantmen. This naval superiority, however, was reversed by the glorious battle of Lake Erie.

John Melish, an English traveler, visited Buffalo in 1811. He furnishes a very interesting account of the then condition of the village, and our readers will find it in the "Notices of Early Travelers" appended to this sketch. We would call attention, however, to the fact stated by him, that it was, even at that unpropitious time, proposed to run a pier into the Lake, at the outlet of the Creek, and so form a harbor. A stage ran twice a week from Albany to Buffalo.

The village was undoubtedly rising rapidly in consequence, when it was suddenly doomed to utter destruction. During the last war our citizens had rendered themselves obnoxious to their Canadian neighbors, by the zeal and energy with which they contributed to its prosecution, and the place itself was a military station. The indecisive and occasionally discreditable forays which mark frontier wars had exasperated evil passions on both sides, and the burning of Kingston was to be specially avenged. Buffalo was the object of retaliation. On the 30th of December, 1813, a large British force, with a horde of Indian auxiliaries, crossed the river at Black Rock, advanced upon the village and took and burnt it, despite the gallant resistance of a portion of the inhabitants, who succeeded in removing a part of the military stores. Many of our people were carried away captive, and those who escaped, fleeing as they did in the depth of winter, and in utter destitution, were scarcely in a happier condition. So complete was the destruction that only two dwellings were left unconsumed—one of which was occupied by Mrs. Margaret St. John, and stood near David Burt's store on Main street. The village was utterly destroyed, and the inhabitants, to all appearances, hopelessly dispersed. Such are the atrocities of war! The rebuilding of the place was not commenced until 1815.

The village was incorporated in April, 1813, and the Trustees named in the Act are Eli Hart, Zenas W. Baker, Ebenezer Walden, Oliver Forward, and Cyrenius Chapin. The bustle and incidents of the war, however, prevented all action under this charter. A new charter was passed on the 5th day of April, 1816, and the village accepted and was organized under it, on the 6th day of May following. Hoping that some brief notices of the doings and legislation of the village authorities may be as interesting to the public as they have proven to ourselves, we venture to incorporate them with our narrative. Although in perusing our Village Records we may be occasionally beguiled into a smile at the proceedings of the Patres Conscripti, we cannot but do justice to their foresight and wisdom in very many matters of much consequence to us as well as to the then inhabitants.

The Trustees appointed by the Act continued to hold office until the first election, which took place on the first Monday of May, 1817. The powers of the Board of Trustees, however, were extremely limited until they were augmented by a new Charter in 1822. Ordinances were made, and taxes imposed by the freeholders and inhabitants, in meetings convoked by the Trustees, who appear to have been mainly executive officers.

The freeholders and inhabitants met, at the house of Gaius Kibbe, Innkeeper, on the 6th day of May, 1816. Of the Trustees, Samuel Wilkeson, Oliver Forward, Charles Townsend, and Jonas Harrison were present. The meeting chose Jonathan E. Chaplin, Clerk, Josiah Trowbridge, Treasurer, Moses Baker, Collector, and Reuben B. Heacock, John Haddock, and Caleb Russell, Fire Wardens. At a subsequent meeting, held at the same place, on the 11th November, 1816, they passed the first tax ever imposed in Buffalo—a tax of $1,400, to be apportioned according to the Assessment Roll of the town of Buffalo for that year. They also directed their attention to the security of the village from fire, passed some wholesome precautionary ordinances, provided for the purchase of hooks and ladders, and authorized and required the Trustees to examine and ascertain the practicability of procuring a supply of water, by the means of water-courses, aqueducts, reservoirs or otherwise, and, if in their opinion the object could be thus attained, to contract for the purchase of any real property or privileges that might be necessary. Nothing, however, seems to have been effected under this resolution. But the Trustees, on the 7th of March, organized a Fire Company, and appointed the following firemen to constitute it:—William Murray, Stephen K. Grosvenor, Jonathan E. Chaplin, Dan. Bristol, Gorham Chapin, John Fobes, John B. Hicks, Horatio L. Fobes, Joseph Lawton, Jonathan R. Brown, Azariah Fuller, Jr., Sylvanus Marvin, Abraham Larzelere, Barent J. Staats, Frederick A. Sprague, Sylvester Matthews, William B. Goodrich, Nathaniel B. Goodrich, William Dorrington, Welcome Wood. They also resolved, rather arbitrarily, “that it be the duty of Vincent Grant, Gilman Folsom, and Amos Callender, to protect property from plunder whenever a fire may take place in this village.”

At the same meeting the Trustees passed a resolution, “that a tax of three mills on the dollar (computed to amount to $400) be taxed and collected on the property of the taxable inhabitants,” &c. So that in 1817 the taxable property of the village was valued at about $134,400.

The Trustees elected at the annual meeting on the first Monday of May, 1817, were Ebenezer Walden, Jonas Harrison, John G. Camp, Samuel Wilkeson, and Elias Ransom. The custody and disbursement of the public moneys could not have been very burdensome. Elijah D. Efner being elected Treasurer in 1818, his predecessor, who had served for two years, having a balance of $56.20 on hand, modestly suggested that it might be, in the judgment of the Trustees, subject to a deduction for his services. But the Trustees inexorably resolved, “That no compensation be allowed to the late Treasurer, as his duties were represented to have been attended with no unusual trouble or loss of time.”

In May, 1818, was passed the first ordinance to regulate the assize of bread. It fixes the weight of the sixpenny loaf, made of superfine flour, at one and a half, and the shilling loaf at three pounds.

On the 26th of July, 1820, the freeholders and inhabitants adopted a code of by-laws, and an extremely short one it was, consisting only of nine enactments—intended to prevent the keeping of damaged meats, fish, &c.; to compel their owners to remove dead animals; to prevent the firing of crackers, &c., and the lighting of bonfires, always excepting the burning of shavings, in the streets; to prevent nuisances and obstructions of streets, lanes, alleys, and sidewalks; to enforce cleanliness in market and slaughter houses, and make them subject to the inspection of the Trustees; and to prevent driving on sidewalks, and driving faster than a trot in the streets. We do not purpose a history of civic legislation, but the laws of a community afford a safe criterion of its condition, and this, being our first municipal code, furnishes, by the paucity of its subjects, strong proof of the then low state of Buffalo. Indeed, all the by-laws enacted before the city was incorporated would hardly fill two columns of the Commercial Advertiser. But we are happy to be able to add, that the proceedings of the Trustees, while they were adapted to the existing state of the village, invariably indicate a wise forecast and an intelligent public zeal.

On the 7th of May, 1821, $200 was appropriated to build a public market, "to be placed opposite the Court House, on the west side of Main street;" and it was provided that the rent to accrue from it should "be expended exclusively in making wells and reservoirs." But, two days afterwards, this act was rescinded, and the Trustees were authorized to contract with any individual to build a Market, ("without taxing the village.") In April, 1822, an ordinance was passed to prevent the sale of meats anywhere "except at the new public market erected on Stadtniski's Avenue, near the Episcopal Church," under a penalty of $2. In May, 1823, the Market House was appraised at $306.75, but it does not appear that it ever became village property.

The year 1822 is distinguished in our village annals by a re-enactment of the Charter, with material alterations, by the adoption of a Corporate Seal, and the first corporate notice of the Harbor of Buffalo. On the 10th of April, at a meeting held at the house of Charles Townsend, the Trustees adopted, as the common seal, "a stamp, now presented to the Trustees, making a circular impression of the words 'Buffalo Village,' with the centre of the circle relieved." The next Board, elected under the new Charter, confirmed this act of their predecessors, in June. But in July, 1826, the Clerk was directed to procure "a Seal, two inches in diameter, the device of which shall be a ship or vessel, a section of the Canal, a canal-boat and horses drawing the same, and around the periphery of the circle, the words, at the top, 'Corporation Seal,' and at the bottom, 'Buffalo;'" which, having been also adopted by the Common Council in 1832, has ever since been our corporate seal.

Our limits forbid our repeating that portion of the introduction to our first volume which relates to the construction of the pier and the permanent opening of the mouth of the Buffalo Harbor in 1820-23. But we are happy to say that the Trustees co-operated energetically with private individuals in furthering an enterprise so essential to the prosperity of the village. In August, 1822, they contracted with John T. Lacy for the building of a mud-scow, for $534. And it is recorded, that on the 7th of November, they directed orders to be drawn on the Treasurer, as follows: in favor of John McKeen and John T. Lacy, for the mud machine, $499.56; Noah Brown, for scoops, chains, and blocks, $183.96; Johnson & Wilkeson, for transportation of scoop, &c., $23.41. On the 19th August, the first ordinance was passed "to prevent obstruction of the navigable waters of Buffalo Creek, within the limits of the village," merely providing against leaving vessels, boats, or hulls, unmoored or unfastened.

In May, 1823, the first attempt was made, by ordinance, to prevent domestic animals from running at large. It was an attack upon the liberty of swine; but, although in 1826 a pound twenty-five feet square was ordered to be built for their punishment, and the civic war against them has been waged even to this day with unremitting vigor, it is too well known that these obstinate brutes have never been completely quelled.

In June, 1824, the Trustees passed rather an arbitrary resolution, "that the old hovel at the foot of the hill, near Martin Daley's, be removed by the owner without delay, or that, in case of his neglect to remove the same, the same be burnt." We presume the boys had a bonfire, though Magna Charta was plainly violated.

On the 6th of August, 1825, Lorin Pierce was appointed village sexton. He has officiated as sexton from that day to this, and no man ever earned a more deserved popularity in so melancholy a station.

On the 19th of June, 1826, the names of our streets were changed, and their Dutch appellations were discarded and renounced by a resolution of the Trustees. In this, being the first year in which any such licenses were issued by the village authorities, fourteen tavern and sixty-four grocery licenses were granted. The general tax, including five per cent. for the collector, was $1,270.50. In 1830, the tax was only $2,000.

But we must not report too indiscriminately the doings of the Trustees; and it will be more convenient, instead of following their chronicles from year to year, to make a summary of their good deeds under appropriate heads.

We have already given proofs of their laudable anxiety to procure a sufficient supply of water, and to protect the village from fire. They seem to have had these great objects almost constantly in view. In November, 1824, the Trustees directed "the Clerk to write to the agent of the Holland Land Company, requesting a donation of a lot on Buffalo Creek for accommodating the village with water." Whether the request was made, and with what issue, we are not informed.

On the 16th of December, 1824, the second fire company was organized, and the members were George B. Webster, Hiram Johnson, George B. Gleason, Henry Fobes, Guy H. Goodrich, Ebenezer Johnson, Barent J. Staats, Nathaniel Wilgus, Richard Wadsworth, Elisha C. Hickox, Thaddeus Weed, Joseph Dart, Jr., Elijah D. Efner, George Coit, Silas Athearn, John Scott, Henry Hamilton, William Hollister, Joseph Anable, Augustine Eaton, Abner Bryant, Theodore Coburn, Martin Daley, Robert Bush, and John A. Lazell.

No further notice appears to have been had in these important matters for several years, if we except the appropriation of $20, in December, 1826, towards defraying the expense of digging a well on the corner of Pearl and Swan streets. But, in August, 1831, in pursuance of the Act of April 18, 1831, a tax of $3,000 was imposed for the "exclusive" purpose of constructing wells and reservoirs, and the purchase of fire engines, &c. In September a contract was made with the Jubilee Water Works Company, to last seven years, by which the Trustees were to build, in 1831, four cisterns, to contain about 10,000 gallons each, to be filled by the Company, at $10 each per annum; the second year the Company were to be paid at that rate for six, and to fill at the same rate as many as the Trustees should construct. In November, $2,000 was paid for a Fire Engine and 200 feet of hose; and the third fire company was organized. Two Engine Houses had been built, and another engine ordered. We cannot leave this subject without expressing a sincere hope that Buffalo will not be permitted to be much longer without an abundant supply of pure water, the surest preservative of health, and chief safety from conflagration; nor without adding our humble testimony to the merits of our Fire Department. That Department has always embraced a very large portion of our most respectable citizens, has always been distinguished by good order and efficiency, and well deserves every encouragement which may be necessary to maintain its purity and vigor.

The Watch was introduced with the city charter. It seems to have been doubted whether private watchmen could be employed without the sanction of the Trustees. At any rate, in February, 1832, "some of the inhabitants of the Triangle situated between Main and Canal streets and the Canal," having petitioned therefor, John Benson, Michael Benson and William Cornwall, were appointed watchmen for the Triangle—"to be paid by the petitioners."

In June, 1826, the village was divided into five road districts, "for the better improvement of the streets and highways therein." In June, 1831, it was resolved to appoint a "general road Superintendent," and Moses Baker was chosen to fill the office. In fact the streets were mere roads until 1835, and the side-walks were undefined and unregulated until 1825. The only mention of paving we find in the minutes of the Trustees, is a resolution of November 4, 1830, to the effect, that, "whenever the owners and occupants adjoining the alley leading from Canal street to Main street, shall graduate and open it, the village will pay half the expense of paving the same, not exceeding the expense of the part already paved by E. Johnson, in proportion to distance."

In June, 1825, Joseph Clary was "directed to ascertain and establish the true surface of the sidewalks in Main street between Swan and Crow streets," and to place monuments "so that the walks when finished or flagged shall be an inclined plane."

But it was not until the 27th of July, 1829, that any order for paving sidewalks was made. Then Main street was ordered to be flagged and railed at the expense of the owners, commencing at the Stone Tavern on the Terrace and the north side of Crow (Exchange) street, to Chippewa street on the West side, and on the East side to Eagle street—the flagging to be smooth stone or hard brick—the West side to be sixteen, and the East fourteen feet wide—the platforms not to exceed five feet—the curbing on the West side, from the Stone Tavern to the northeast corner of Lot No. 41, to be stone 18 inches by 5, and the rest to be of either stone, or of oak 16 inches by 4. This flagging, in May following, was ordered to be extended, on the East side to Genesee, and on the West side to Chippewa street.

In October, 1821, leave was given to William Evans and William R. Gwinn, to construct the ship canal, care being taken to provide that it should be made at their own expense, and be a public highway, and that they should erect bridges over it.

The Act incorporating the City of Buffalo was passed April 20, 1832. The first election was held on the 26th of May following, and, in the First Ward, Isaac S. Smith and Joseph W. Brown,—in the Second, John G. Camp and Henry Root,—in the Third, David M. Day and Ira A. Blossom,—in the Fourth, Henry White and Major A. Andrews, and in the Fifth, Ebenezer Walden and Thomas C. Love, were elected Aldermen. The board assembled at the Court House on the 28th of May, and elected Ebenezer Johnson, Mayor. They also appointed Dyre Tillinghast, Clerk, and Henry R. Seymour, Treasurer. The building, of that singular combination of a City Hall and Public Market which deforms the Terrace, was not, we believe, commenced until 1835.

On the 13th January, 1835, Theodore Coburn, Sheldon Thompson, George B. Webster, Heman B. Potter, and John W. Clarke, were appointed by the Council to assess $5000 on the property to be benefited by the paving of Main from South Division to Crow street. This report was confirmed on the third, and the work ordered to be done on the 10th day of April.

Here we desist from pursuing our city annals into detail. We have found them full of interest, and they are the main material for a local history. They establish one fact which all ought to be apprised of, — that our most distinguished and successful citizens have been those who have taken an active part in promoting the prosperity of the place, and have deemed no civic office too humble, or too onerous for their acceptance. Many instances of this fact have been incidentally exhibited, and more might easily be adduced did our limits permit. We will add, however, that the first Attorney of the Coporation was Gorham Chapin, appointed in Junè, 1822, and Joseph Clary succeeded him in May, 1823; James Sheldon filled that office in 1826: on the 2d of June, 1829, George P. Barker was appointed Clerk, and Elijah Ford took his place in April, 1834, when Mr. Barker was appointed Attorney of the village.

We would be very glad to possess a history of the progress of architectural taste in Buffalo, and the dates of the erection of the more important edifices; but we are sadly deficient in these particulars. We know that the "Stone Tavern," which has now disappeared, was thought ornamental in its day; and the old Bank of Niagara, now regarded as an antiquated building, and which, from its position, is, in fact, a nuisance, was deemed a noble structure so late as 1825. The American Hotel was built in 1835-6. Very many creditable religious structures have risen within a few years, and others are now rising. But we cannot state fully how our churches were endowed, or when they were erected. The Holland Land Company, however, pursued an enlightened policy, and we may mention that the sites of St. Paul's Church, and of the First Presbyterian Church, were donated by it—the former in June, and the latter in December, 1820.

Our city has no buildings for judicial or civic purposes, worthy of its position, or adequate to its wants. But the times seem fully rife for planning and commencing a City Hall commensurate with the present palmy condition, and worthy of the assured destiny of Buffalo.

Be it remembered that, although Buffalo has once, at least, passed successfully through a long and arduous struggle, in which her very existence was endangered—though, being deficient in capital, she felt the full force of those tremendous financial convulsions, against which naught but capital could afford a safeguard, and which shook the credit of the whole country to its very centre, her citizens have been ever sedulously devoted to the true interests and highest glory of a free community. Neither the calm of prosperity nor the buffetings of adversity ever paralyzed their efforts in the cause of education, nor rendered them utterly neglectful of ennobling science. We have a free common school system which is the chief ornament of our city, and the strongest guaranty of civil order. Our Young Men's Association has promoted literary taste, and created an appetite for knowledge. It has done much good, and we are sanguine that better things are not far behind. The Medical Department of our University is a noble and flourishing institution, and we trust the day is not far distant when all the departments will be fully organized, and Buffalo be as illustrious in science as she is happy in a diffused prosperity, and unrivaled at the West in commerce.

It is somewhat out of place, but we are compelled to give here, or to omit entirely some information recently received, for which we are indebted to C. Turner, Esq., of Lockport, whose forthcoming history of the early settlers of Western New York we are anxiously expecting,—and which will form a most desirable addition to general as well as local history.

The first settlement of Buffalo, was in the vicinity of the Liberty Pole by the Terrace Market. As stated in the introduction to our first volume, the double log house on or near Exchange street, built by Middaugh and Lane, and sold to Judge Barker, in 1807 or 1808, was among the first dwellings—it is claimed to have been the very first erected in Buffalo. No contracts for the sale of lands in New Amsterdam were entered into by the Holland Company until November 1, 1804,—on which day six were made, by the entry of memoranda in a book kept by Mr. Ellicott, their agent and attorney. One of these is for the conveyance to Capt. William Johnston, the British Indian Interpreter, of outer lots 93 and 85, and inner lots 3, 30 and 32, in consideration of services rendered by him to the company, in the adjustment of the boundaries of the Reservation, between the company and the Senecas, over whom he seems to have possessed a boundless influence. Another contract was for the sale of inner lot No. 1, to John Crow, who kept a small tavern upon it at an early day. By a memorandum made by Mr. Ellicott, it appears that this lot was deeded, on the 14th of April, 1810, to Joseph Landon, for $140. The other sales were of inner lots, to Asa Ransom, number 65—Sophronius Maybe, number 35,—Henry Chapin, number 34, and William Robbins, number 33. These agreements were probably coupled with conditions, on the part of the purchaser, to clear the land and build houses, as Mr. Ellicott was at the outset averse to selling to any but actual settlers;—and the price of an inner lot could not have exceeded $20;—for on the 3d day of July, 1807, we find Abraham Hershey buying of the company, inner lots 150, 151, 156, and 157, in all for $80, and binding himself to clear one of the lots and build a house in some short time thereafter. In 1808, Alpheus Hitchcox purchased outer lots 88 and 89, at the rate of $4 per acre. Melish, in his travels, in 1811, says of Buffalo, "The lots are from 60 to 100 feet deep, and sell at from 25 to 50 dollars; and there are out lots of 5 and 10 acres each, worth at present from 10 to 25 dollars per acre."

The increase of population, at first gradual, has of late been extremely rapid. Metish says, "The population was by the last census 365; it is now (1811) computed at 500, and is rapidly increasing." In 1825, the population was 2412; in 1830, it was 8,668; in 1835, it had swollen to 15,661; in 1840, it was 18,213. The census of 1845 numbers our people at 29,973. In February last, Mr. Palmer, who took the school census took with great care, at the same time, an enumeration of the inhabitants generally, and found they amounted to more than 40,000. We hazard but little in repeating our prediction, that, in 1850, Buffalo will contain 50,000 souls.

And here we must be permitted to express our chagrin at being unable to enliven this sketch by brief biographies of the early settlers. We hope this deficiency will be perceived, and that the means of supplying it hereafter will be furnished. There must be much of interest, if it can be recovered from the page of oblivion, in the lives of Johnston, Crow, Lane and Winne. It might seem invidious to specify other more recent Buffalonians who have contributed to the general well being. But we must say that we would be very glad to possess a biography of that most exemplary, benevolent, and excellent man, Louis LeCouteulx, for he lived a checquered life, and was a public benefactor. Surely, too, the lives of such men as Dr. Cyrenius Chapin, Oliver Forward, and Charles Townsend, must present some features of general concernment, as well as others peculiarly precious to those who love to delve in the mouldering recollections of the past.

The history of our Harbor, and of our Harbor Improvements, would of itself, if duly written, fill a volume. It is connected not only with our own, but with the history of the State; and the western termination of the Erie Canal was a question involved in party strife, and influential in determining the destinies of statesmen. De Witt Clinton appreciated the advantages of Buffalo as the terminus, and his counsels, after a fierce contest, prevailed, and time has most signally vindicated his sagacity. Black Rock, once a threatening competitor, has sunk into obscurity, but will soon, we trust, be embraced by the extension of our city, and flourish with it. The Buffalo Creek, with the aid of Art, has yielded a more commodious harbor for the commerce of the Lakes, than Art and Nature both could ever form from the rushing river.

But, for many years it has been evident that our Harbor, occasionally crowded as it was, would shortly, for want of room, prove insufficient to shelter and accommodate the constantly augmenting shipping of the Lakes. As our tables show, this increase is astounding to those who know not, that what in Europe would be an Empire, has sprung up at the West since 1825. This evil in anticipation had attracted but partial attention, and discussion had given rise only to worse than unprofitable quarrels, resulting in the defeat of every scheme and project of improvement, until, in 1847, the public was aroused by the thronged state of the creek, which several times was fairly bridged by vessels for a full quarter of a mile, while our warehouses, being filled to overflowing the wharves and streets in their vicinity were covered and choked with flour and produce which could not find shelter. Then the public acted, and as will always be the case when the public acts deliberately, petty and selfish schemes were thrown aside, bickerings ceased, and all our citizens concurred in sanctioning an expanded system of improvement, which, when completed, will suffice for the ever expanding commerce of a century to come. This system, having been carefully matured by a joint committee of the citizens and of the Common Council, was adopted at a general meeting of the citizens on the 21st, and by the Council on the 24th of August, 1847. These will, we trust, be honored days hereafter. The plan contemplates primarily the completion by the State of the Main and Hamburg Street Canal, and of two large Basins, the Ohio and the Erie, with slips connecting them with the canal. The Ohio Basin is to have an area of ten acres, and is connected with the Buffalo Creek about a mile from the mouth—the Erie Basin is to be three hundred feet wide and half a mile in length, extending from the north side of the entrance of the Harbor towards Black Rock. Both are to be of a depth sufficient for the largest craft, and will quadruple our facilities for commerce. The State has made appropriations for the execution of these great works, contingent upon the city's extinguishing the individual titles to the necessary lands. The city has taken the necessary preliminary steps to fulfill her part of the undertaking, and this year will, we trust, see both these improvements far advanced towards completion. When they are completed Buffalo will be founded on a rock.

Our task is nearly finished. We have omitted many matters incorporated in our former sketch; but hope, in 1849, to blend all our present and much fresh material into a worthier history of our dear city.

The old fable of Venus rising from the foam of the great sea is typical of the beauty of the fair cities which spring from commerce. And in the age of poetry, the rise of the Queen City of the Lakes would have justified it as readily as did the birth of Tyre. It is a sublime spectacle, this sudden and perfect growth of a great mart! It is suggestive of happy thoughts of man and Providence. It is not alloyed with those feelings of horror at tyranny, and pity for tasked slaves, which aggritate us, when we read of the sudden founding of great capitals by ancient heroes, or when we see the great but remorseless Czar laying the foundation of St. Petersburg, and propitiating opposing Nature by the sacrifice of unnumbered human hecatombs. Here, freemen labored, not for fame, nor for the attainment of excessive wealth,—those delusive phantoms which ever mock their pursuers—but competency, and present happiness, and the pleasure of indulging their strong energies in the promotion of happiness around them. Hence the Doric plainness,—if you will, the uncouthness,—of some portion of our city, and the absence of those splendid monuments of art, which are too often paid for with blood, or with the accumulated mites wrung from a miserable people. These things will most surely be added unto us; and we care not how soon, for they will never be polluted by a single curse of Poverty, nor desecrated by the tread of strong Injustice. They will be free-will offerings of affluent Liberty to Taste, Utility, and Virtue—or may they never be!

The man who first swung the axe and built a house in Buffalo, died, in the full possession of his faculties, but a few weeks ago. He might have witnessed our whole history. But we cannot date our city's origin in so remote and misty an era as a century ago. The little hamlet perished in ashes thirty-three years since,—the computed duration of a generation,—and its ashes were not vivified for two years after. But then again, the petty village was rather the predecessor than the commencement of our city. Its true birth may well be traced to the completion of the Erie canal, in 1825, and that being completed, the village was not a necessary antecedent of the emporium which was then first founded here.

That Buffalo is destined to be one of the greatest cities of the Union is universally admitted. All things are full of promise for her. The convulsions of the old continents are unfelt in this. European capital will seek investment where alone it seems secure; and affrighted multitudes will flee for shelter to the only country in the world where peace can be secure, and where war can wreak comparatively but little injury. The prosperity of the United States must be greatly augmented, and, whether the East is invigorated, or the West developed, Buffalo will surely reap a rich share of the harvest. Manufactures, purged of all debasement and oppression, are rising in her bosom;—honest labor is happy in innumerable employments;—prudent enterprize is expanding her resources; capital is flowing in; and, above all, a commerce, boundless as the West, limitless as the necessities of man, fertilizing as the Nile, and humanizing in all its tendencies, and which can never be diverted, warrants and confirms our most exalted hopes.

THE CITY OF BUFFALO:

A GLANCE

AT ITS PROGRESS DOWN TO THE PRESENT TIME.

BY SANFORD B. HUNT,
EDITOR MORNING EXPRESS.

The annalist, in taking up the thread of our local history where it was dropped by Judge CLINTON in 1847, finds himself embarrassed by the rapid progress and substantial changes of the intervening period. The idea—as old as the Erie Canal—that Buffalo was destined to be a great commercial city, has been fully realized. Few, fifteen years ago, could have honestly predicted the gigantic commerce of 1861; and fewer still, believing such a triumph possible, could have surmised that it would only be reached through a period of profound discouragement, and that, when attained, it would be found to be insufficient to the nutrition of the city. Yet nothing is now more certain—and it is well to add—nothing more fixed in the minds of Buffalonians, than that the commerce of the West, however grand, has its limit as a supporting power, and cannot be forced beyond it. It was from this conviction that the people of this city, by an action unusually successful as a popular movement, deliberately resolved to divert their surplus energies from traffic to manufactures, and so devolved upon the historian the necessity of recording a change in the character of the town which has left a lasting impress.

In 1847, and for several successive years, Buffalo was essentially a maritime town. Its harbor was serviceable, but narrow and inconvenient; and the frequent arrivals and departures crowded the narrow water-way so as to give an air of wonderful life and activity to the region of the wharves. Passenger steamboats were in their glory, numerous lines leaving daily, crowded with passengers, advertised with wonderful pertinacity by the class of “runners”—very remarkable men in their way—and adding to the seductions of this persuasive system, the charms of music discoursed at all hours, on Sundays as well as week-days, from the guards of the steamboats. Elevators were only an experiment then, and a vast number of long-shore men were supported by the labor of handling freight by inconvenient processes. Carts, too, were in great requisition; canal boats were small and numerous, and the result was a business which advertised itself by its own bustle and by the crowd which was constantly maintained in the narrow quarters where it was transacted, and through which every stranger passed on his way east or west.

Gradually the bustle ceased. Labor-saving contrivances drove away a host of long-shore men. The elevators usurped the function of the Irishman. The harbor itself grew apace. New canals were opened, basins constructed, and a larger commerce diffused over a larger surface made a smaller exhibit than before. The region of the water side grew dull when the buckets of the elevator, propelled by steam, lifted three thousand bushels of grain per hour from the hold of a vessel. The trade was there, but the hurrah was gone, and it fed fewer mouths. Railroads came in to the aid of this. Extending westward, on the lake shore and through Canada, they stole away the passenger traffic, and left the "floating palaces" to rot in the Ship Canal, where some of them still lie, useless and hopeless. Lake freighting is now done by propellers exclusively, a kind of craft then only beginning to be known, and laughed at as "slow steamboats." At that time—or rather in 1846—there were in commission on the upper lakes 64 steamboats, and only 21 propellers; while now the register of Buffalo shipping shows only 9 steamboats (of which five are ferry boats and the other four laid up), while the list of propellers owned here is 48 in number. But such a comparison imperfectly exhibits the change. Nearly all the shipping of the upper lakes is tributary to Buffalo, and a comparison of the years 1847 and 1861, including the total of each class and their tonnage, will be interesting:

	1847.	1861.
Steamboats.....	64	71
Propellers.....	21	182
Sail.....	267	913
	352	1166

Of the steamboats credited to 1861, not all are in use, and few are profitable. The day of bands of music and runners has departed forever.

These changes, however, though diminishing the appearance of activity in the town, were only the results of healthful change. We grew and prospered quietly, the city increasing in population and strength of capital, labor itself, by a natural process, turning to mechanics and to the rapidly growing railroads, until, say in 1856, a climax seemed to have been reached. The limit of commerce to support the town had been discovered. So many shipbuilders to build, so many sailors to navigate, so many machinists to make engines, so many laborers to handle freight by rail or water, so many cannallers, so many produce dealers, and beyond these as many professional and mercantile men and mechanics as were needed to take care of the souls, bodies and stomachs of the others. These were all to be fed by a commerce changing with the seasons, one year rich in fruits, and another too small for the demand upon it.

Should Buffalo go backward? Should it be always the sport of prosperous and unprosperous years, relying on the luck of Irish famines, Crimean and Italian wars, and especially liable to be crushed by monetary panics? Following the wild financial panic of 1857, these questions became urgent. There was a deal of newspaper writing on the subject. Legislatures and Canal Boards were hounded for concessions on tolls, for restrictions on railroads, for something that would make the same business feed more mouths. Wholesale mercantile traffic had almost perished in the new order of things begotten by new means of communication, unbroken by winters and regardless of bad roads. It seemed as if there were but two points on our parallel of latitude, New York and Chicago, and that all between were way stations. "Make more business," said some one. For in spite of all grumbling, Buffalo had solid wealth. The real estate holders, buying in early days for nothing and selling in the flush times for mints of money, and some classes of manufacturers, had abundant means. To call these out became the first law of nature. Self-preservation dictated that the wealth accumulated in the chances of real estate speculation should be turned toward manufactures. To uphold the value of real estate we needed an increased consuming population to rent houses, to buy provisions and dry goods, and to furnish occupation for middle men.

The work was taken hold of in earnest. To go back a little in our history, Buffalo had flourished from year to year from 1847 to 1857, affected by no serious drawbacks, dependent mostly on its commerce and the manufactures which commerce coerced into existence, and knowing no change except in the gradual yet certain transfer of the passenger traffic from the water to the land routes. The panic of 1857 destroyed the illusive prosperity. Real estate sank rapidly to a rational value. The labor-saving elevators, together with the increasing success of railroads as a means of winter shipment, emptied the warehouses that lined the wharves, and diverted to sea-board cities the wholesale trade in merchandise. Retail traffic drifted up-town to the neighborhood of its customers. The eastern side of the city, sought at first for shelter from the lake winds, gradually fell in popularity as the wide and airy streets of the west side became appreciated, and this exodus was aided by the occupation of a broad belt of its territory by new canals and railroads. Such was the condition in which Buffalo met the panic of 1857.

Since that time, five years have passed. The greatest event of that semi-decade was the completion of the Erie Canal Enlargement. The tonnage of the canal boat, by a process so gradual that owners suffered no loss, has grown from 90 to 220 tons, and the cost of transit has been proportionally decreased as the capacity has become enlarged. The old supremacy of this water route is re-established, with room enough left for improvement to meet any probable increase in railroad competition. The railroads themselves, with abundant chartered privileges, have passed that formation and transition period out of which so many hostilities were begotten, and are now wedded with the canals in a harmonious system which is profitable to each, and in which each find all their resources taxed to meet the enormous draft upon their energies.

Gradually lifting from the effects of the panic, the city resumed its wonted prosperity, but learned a lesson from the past. It needed a permanent business, separated from the lake commerce and independent of its fluctuations, to hold it steady in future crises. In 1860, an "Association for the Encouragement of Manufactures in the City of Buffalo" was organized and carried on with energy. Directly, it only called out the enterprise of others. Indirectly, it encouraged the work it had assumed, by an extended system of advertising the city at large. It sent its circulars announcing that real estate was cheap, living economical and rents low in a city of 80,000 inhabitants, having fifty-two miles of splendidly paved streets, forty-eight miles of sewerage, two hundred and sixty miles of streets paved and unpaved, gas everywhere, and water of the purest; that its schools were unsurpassed, and religious privileges abundant. To these were added the position of the town as a centre for all markets, and it cannot be doubted that the transactions of this Association gave a healthy impulse to the returning tide of prosperity.

A list of the manufactures of Buffalo, published by this agency, covers thirty-two pages of closely printed duodecimo, and affords an endless catalogue of articles.

At the same time and in pursuance of this manufacturing policy, two large blast-furnaces were built here for the smelting of iron ore. One of these, that of Palmer & Wadsworth, representatives of great estates, in this vicinity, has been in busy and successful operation for a year past. The other, that of Warren & Thompson, has been recently allied with it, and the two will hereafter work in unison, affording work for a full fleet of lake and canal craft hereafter. Other and numerous enterprises of the same sort have been entered upon, until we can write down the City of Buffalo in the Spring of 1862, as more populous, more prosperous, and having before it a more brilliant future than ever before.

Let it not be understood that in saying that Buffalo has sought safety in manufactures, and given her surplus energies to their encouragement, that she has lost confidence in her commercial supremacy. We quote from the able "Annual Report of Trade and Commerce" of the Buffalo Daily Express, prepared by Mr. E. H. WALKER, the following comparative statements and statistics of past and present commerce:

ARRIVALS AND DEPARTURES BY LAKE.

The following shows the grand total of arrivals and departures from the Port of Buffalo, the tonnage of the vessels employed, and the number of seamen engaged, for the years 1852 and 1861:

Aside from the cereals, the Custom House returns show the following quantities of a few important staples arriving here by lake during 1861 :

Alcohol, bbls	11,680	Iron, lbs.	2,040,856
Bacon, lbs	2,347,825	Iron Ore, tons	3,544
Butter, lbs	2,028,615	Lumber, feet	58,082,713
Hides, No.	59,993	Staves, No.	25,228,978
Hoops, No.	16,295,360	Shingles, No.	15,787,100

The immensity of the commerce involved* in these figures can best be expressed in the simple statement that vessels averaging over 300 tons burthen, passed in and out of our harbor, during the year, 13,886 times, to bring to Buffalo the products of the West and carry from it the merchandise of the East. To this let us add that the supply of means of transportation was so inadequate as to occasion extravagantly high rates of freight during all the season, and that the Canals and the Railroads participated fully in this era of success.

What else has Buffalo done worthy of record in our annals? When, in April, 1861, the alarm gun of civil war was fired from Sumter, Buffalo rallied promptly to the rescue of the flag. A very few weeks sufficed to call together and organize a full Regiment, known as the 21st N. Y. S. V., Col. Wm. F. Rogers, while during and subsequent to its organization many isolated companies and detachments were recruited and enlisted here for the volunteers and the regular service. In August, the 49th Regiment N. Y. S. V., Col. D. D. Bidwell, completed its organization and left for the seat of war. In February, the 100th Regiment N. Y. S. V., Col. Brown, left here, constituting a part of the "Eagle Brigade" raised by Gen. G. A. Scroggs, for which about half another Regiment was also raised here. A full Company, Capt. Chapin's, of the People's Ellsworth Regiment, 44th N. Y. S. V., was from this city and county. Full Companies were also raised for other Regiments by numerous recruiting officers, among them being Capt. Faxon, Capt. Wiedrich, Capt. Hamilton, and others, while very much of the material' of a Cavalry Regiment, commanded by Col. Lamon, was from this locality. In all, not less than 5,000 men have been mustered into service here for the war, either in the volunteer or the regular service.

At the outset the city Common Council assumed the charge of the families of indigent soldiers, and regular weekly allowances in money have been issued to numerous worthy wives and children of soldiers, so that the war has brought no pauperism or distress upon those left behind. In this work the city treasury was aided to the amount of $25,000 by a citizen's subscription, and the management of the joint fund has been placed in the hands of a committee made up partly of citizens and partly of members of the Common Council. Parallel with this were the efforts of the ladies, acting through their various church and social organizations, until a greater harmony was secured by the consolidation of all as auxiliaries to a "Ladies' Aid Society," acting in concert with the U. S. Sanitary Commission. Through these agencies much suffering has been prevented, and the sick or wounded soldier on the banks of the Potomac has been made to feel that loving hearts and helping hands are left at home, ready with prayer and work to comfort him. As we write, still another organization designed to furnish further aid to such of our soldiers as may be wounded in the expected battles on the Potomac, is well advanced towards completion.

In the midst of all these painful suggestions of carnage and the horrors of civil war, stands the unexampled fact, peculiar to the vastness and the energy of our country, that the burden of civil war has not been sufficient to check our progress as a city. We send thousands of soldiers to the war, yet our population is larger than when the first detachment of four companies moved down Main street to the crash of music, the ringing of bells, the cheers of thousands, and the tears of many not easily moved to weeping. There can be nothing stranger, or rather more indicative of the strength of the position of Buffalo, than that it has been enriched and grown prosperous by the war, and that in the long catalogue of its successful years, that of 1861 stands foremost as a period when in all the avenues of trade and manufactures there was a flood-tide of good fortunes.

We have written a sketch, and not a history. Much might have been said of worthy individual names or of private enterprises, and some kind mention might have been made of the old citizens who have laid down the harness and passed to their final rest. But once entered upon this, and upon the specification of the dates upon which each one of the thousand enterprises of an active city became operative, and the record would occupy volumes. We have spoken, therefore, only of results, leaving the men and the means by which they were accomplished to the more careful and elaborate annals of the Buffalo Historical Society, which has just commenced the work of rescuing from oblivion the rapidly perishing memories of a period of unprecedented change.

BUFFALO FEMALE ACADEMY.

This Institution is situated in the most eligible and delightful part of the city, and commands a beautiful view of the city, the river and the lake. The grounds consisting of a whole block, fronting on Delaware avenue, and extending to a charming private park in the rear, are tastefully laid out and ornamented with trees and shrubbery.

The buildings, "The Cottage" and "Goodell Hall" combine all that is desirable in arrangement and convenience. The former is built of stone, and is exclusively occupied by the family of the Principal, the young ladies entrusted to his care as boarders, and the teachers of the Institution boarding with the Principal. The latter, "Goodell Hall," has been expressly erected for academic instruction, and for spaciousness and convenience, may well challenge comparison with any similar establishment in the country. It has abundant accommodations for four hundred pupils. Rev. A. T. Chester, Principal.

Board of Trustees—Hon. N. K. Hall, President; Rev. A. T. Chester, D. D., Secretary and Treasurer. Samuel F. Pratt, Dennis Bowen, Noah H. Gardner, Henry W. Rogers, Bronson C. THOMAS'

STREET AND AVENUE DIRECTORY

OF THE

CITY OF BUFFALO.

(CORRECTED APRIL, 1862.)

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1862, by E. A. THOMAS, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the United States, for the Northern District of New York.

EXPLANATION.

It will be noticed that in this Street Directory, the names of the streets are set down in alphabetical order, giving the course which they run, according as nearly as possible to the points of the compass, and enumerating all streets which cross the same in the order in which they occur. In all cases where the numbering of our streets has been perfected, the numbers on the right and left hand corners have been given, so that a person wishing to find, say, No. 387 MAIN STREET, on consulting the Street Directory, finds that the right hand corner of Main and Mohawk is No. 379, consequently the place he seeks is only a few doors above. The imperfect numbering of our streets prevents our Directory from being as comprehensive as it might be; still, to the resident or the stranger it will be found to be useful.

ABBREVIATIONS.—N. for North; N. E. for North East; N. W. for North West; S. for South; S. E. for South East; S. W. for South West; E. for East; W. for West; Niag. R. for Niagara River; Sq. for Square; Ave. for Avenue; Al. for Alley.

NEWEL POSTS

AND

REVOLVING CLOTHES DRYERS.

Would call the attention of the public to his REVOLVING CLOTHES DRYERS, which possesses the following advantages over any other mode of drying clothes: Its rotary motion produces a circulation of air, causing the clothes to dry rapidly, and prevents the liability of their being torn. The labor and time in hanging up the articles to be dried, and of taking them down, are materially lessened.

It occupies but little space, and may be set up in any yard, however small, without inconvenience. The machine will be found to give entire satisfaction wherever it is used, and no family should be without one.

For particulars, address, if by letter, POST OFFICE, BOX 4287.

Orders will be promptly executed, and the machine put up in any part of the city on short notice.

PHOTOGRAPHS

OF ALL SIZES AND PRICES,

PAINTED IN OIL OR WATER COLORS.

ALSO, PICTURES PAINTED FROM LIFE, IF PREFERRED.

Photographs executed in India Ink to equal the most finished engraving.

Photographs in India Ink, and beautifully tinted in Water Colors.

Photographs painted on Canvas, either Cabinet or Life Size.

These pictures surpass any other portrait ever produced, both in point of finish as well as in truthfulness to nature. Portraits produced by the Photographic process do away entirely with those long and tedious sittings which are so much dreaded in obtaining a likeness by the old method, and securing at the same time a more perfect picture.

Persons residing at a distance having pictures, either of living or deceased friends, can have a perfect life-size Photograph painted in oil on canvas, by sending the picture with a description of the person, giving the general complexion, color of the eyes and hair. By the photographic process, there is no possibility of a failure in reproducing a perfect fac simile of the original picture, no matter how small.

From my long experience in this line of portraiture, I feel confidence in saying to the public that in case of any picture failing to give satisfaction, I alone will be the loser.

The public generally suppose that a Photograph is different from the old style of oil painting. This is not the case; the "Photograph assists the artist in preserving the features," thereby rendering a failure impossible; and the picture equals, if not exceeds, those produced by the old method.

The pictures produced at this Gallery are pronounced by connoisseurs in the art to be superior to any in this State.

PHOTOGRAPHS COLORED IN OIL CONSIDERED THE ULTIMATUM OF PORTRAITURE!

Ivorytypes in Oil that will not change.

Buffalo City Directory

FOR THE YEAR 1862.

ABBREVIATIONS.

In the pages following, A. stands for house; b. for boards; cor. for corner; opp. for opposite; lab. for laborer; ab. for above; bel. for below; n. for near; r. for rear; carp. for carpenter; N. S. E. W. for north, south, east and west; N. Div. for North Division; S. Div. for South Division; Exch. for Exchange; Wash. for Washington; Com'l for Commercial; and the abbreviations of the States for streets of similar names. The word street is implied.
It will be noticed that we have introduced a new feature, in placing the names and residence of all members of a firm, in a smaller type directly under the name of the firm. This, it will be understood, does not interfere with the regular insertion of the same names in their alphabetical order.

PRINCE & CO.'S

SCHOOL ORGAN

This instrument is designed expressly for public and private SCHOOLS, PUBLIC HALLS, and small CHURCHES.

After having finished and sold over 28,000 MELODEONS, of our usual varieties, we found that something different was needed to meet the wants of

SCHOOLS, SMALL CHURCHES AND PUBLIC HALLS.

We think that we have succeeded in producing an instrument which is unrivaled in TONE, BRILLIANCY, COMPASS, and (last, though not least,) CHEAPNESS. It has nearly double the volume of tone of our $150 Double Reed Melodeon, and this is produced by the greater capacity of BELLOWS and SOUNDING BOARD, in connection with a peculiar method of voicing the reeds.

The GRADUATED SWELL and DIVIDED SWELL are attached to this instrument, and we think the effect is superior to anything we have produced before. The advantages we claim for this instrument are—

1st. It has more compass than any other double reed instrument ever offered at the same price, the smallest being full four and a half octaves, which is the usual compass of the key boards of the largest organ; and the largest full five octaves.

2d. It has more volume of tone than any reed instrument ever offered to the public at double the price.

3d. It has two stops, by means of which the tone can be modulated to suit all occasions.

4th. It has the "DIVIDED SWELL," which is only to be found in Melodeons of our manufacture.

5th. It has the "GRADUATED SWELL," which is admitted to be the most desirable improvement ever added to Melodeons, and which is patented by us, and used exclusively in our instruments.

6th. It has the "IMPROVED VALVE," (or pallet,) being a combination of cloth and leather, insuring the durability of the instrument, and long needed as a substitute for the "India rubber valve," which has caused so much trouble by the dissolving and sticking of the rubber.

Finally, It exactly meets the wants of those for whom it was intended.

We have a large force of workmen employed exclusively in the construction of these instruments, and our facilities for manufacturing are such that we can fill all orders promptly.

PRINCE & CO.'S

IMPROVED PATENT

M E L O D E O N S

WARRANTED FOR FIVE YEARS.

OUR LATEST IMPROVEMENT—PRINCE & CO.'S GRADUATED SWELL

Patented September 17th, 1861.

This is an entirely new idea; and its want has been noticed by all acquainted with reed instruments. The old swell could never be made to operate gradually; the instant the pedal was moved for opening it, the change would be instantaneous and abrupt.

Our New Swell is Constructed on Scientific Principles

And we are satisfied, by our untiring study and experiment, that it is the only one by which the tone of reed instruments may be graduated from a mere whisper to the full power of the instrument, and vice versa. The volume of tone is also very much increased by this swell, and is now all that we could desire. (No other melodeon has this improvement.)

This, in connection with our "DIVIDED SWELL" (which we patented in 1855,) will be added to all the Melodeons which we manufacture in the future, and without extra charge. Persons unacquainted with the Melodeon and its history, will bear in mind that we are the pioneers and leading manufacturers, not only in the United States, but in the world.

We commenced the manufacture of Melodeons in the fall of the year 1847, and since that time have finished and sold

TWENTY-EIGHT THOUSAND.

These instruments are now in use mostly in the United States and Canada; but also in Europe, Asia, Africa, South America, and the West Indies; and from all these quarters we have the most flattering testimonials of the high estimation in which they are held.

At all Industrial Exhibitions they have invariably been awarded the HIGHEST PREMIUM WHENEVER EXHIBITED IN COMPETITION WITH OTHERS.

All Melodeons of our manufacture, either sold by us or dealers in any part of the United States or Canadas, are warranted to be perfect in every respect, and should any repairs be necessary before the expiration of FIVE YEARS from date of sale, we hold ourselves ready and willing to make such repairs free of charge, provided the injury is not caused by accident or design.

D. CLINTON HICKS' CENTRAL COMMERCIAL COLLEGE

BUFFALO, N. Y.

Motto:—THE APPLICATION OF KNOWLEDGE TO A PRACTICAL END.

This Institution was established in 1853, by the present Principal, for the express purpose of teaching Book-Keeping in all the departments hereinafter mentioned.

The Hall is 18 by 85 feet, well ventilated, commands a splendid view of the Niagara River, and is in the most central part of our city.

Mr. Hicks being a practical accountant and penman, and having had over twelve years experience, commands better and more extensive facilities than any other school of the kind in Western New York. The community is beginning to understand the difference between printed books, lithographed copies, and a live, practical teacher. The complete Collegiate Course embraces the following:

FORWARDING AND COMMISSION.—Illustrating stock books, commenced by two merchants in single entry, the one selling out, the other continuing the same books in double entry.

MANUFACTURING BOOKS.—Individual and joint stock, illustrating the opening, conducting, declaring dividends, and the final closing—nine books in the set.

PARTNERSHIP BOOKS.—Ten partners, all sell out but one, changed to stock books. Illustrates banking outside the counter, interest on partners' accounts, domestic joint accounts, (without average,) account sales, proprietor dies, business goes into liquidation, making two dividends, elucidates domestic exchange, administrator appointed, settling with the heirs of the estate, appraisers, litigating accounts, executions, chattel mortgages, leases, deeds, and a final settlement with the Court of Probate.

RIVER STEAMBOATING.—Consisting of freight, passage and cash books, manifest, balance sheet, &c., &c.

JOBING BOOKS.—Elucidates the purchasing from importers, and the selling to retailers, on time, or cash; averaging, balancing, and bringing balance down without equating, equating notes to cover balance of account according to average, finding balance of account before part of the purchases fall due, entering up bills of purchase from store by the proprietors, after the books have been closed, establishing branches of trade, sundry debtors' account, loan account, &c.

LAKE STEAMBOATING.—A complete set, illustrating trade and commerce upon our lake and the western lakes.

PRINTING AND PUBLISHING.—Illustrating that kind of business.

COMMISSION, FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC.—Explains foreign exchange, sets of exchange, international commerce, re-exchange, agencies, accounts current, joint shipments, adventures, joint consignments, interest on accounts not upon the ledger made to appear in balance account, statement of an agency where accounts are payable by custom marine insurance, policies, currencies of different nations, brokerage, primage, storage, lighterage, annuities, in reversion, in arrears, business correspondence, duties.

RAILROADING.—Day Book of Construction and Equipment, giving an analysis of articles of association, subscription list, stock scrips, by-laws, book of minutes, instalment list, surveying the route, engineering, grading, computation, book of operating expenditures, book of receipts, headed express, mail, freight and passage, report for the Legislature and State Engineer, vouchers, ticket register, dividends, transfer of stocks, treasurer's bond, mortgage bonds, convertible bonds, funded debts, common debts as affected by the statute of frauds and limitations, coupons, interest warrants, (the same form as the Central Railroad uses.) Fifteen books in the set.

BANKING SET.—Desk, counter and other fixtures, furnishing every facility used in actual practice. Students, while in this set, perform the duties of a banker for the other students, who deposit and check, and have deal with the bank, exemplifying collections, collateral securities, exchange, protesting notes, drafts, and sets of exchange, teaching the business of a bank of deposit and issue, (twenty-four books to the set, headings printed) checks under varied circumstances, good, not good, certified, negotiability, protest, &c.; bills of exchange, in writing, with ink or pencil, foreign and domestic, protesting, damages after protest, supra protest, the best mode to endorse, bogus drawer, bogus drawee, detention of bill; married women, when responsible, when parties to a bill, either as holder, drawer or drawee; rights and duties of acceptor, of holder, of drawer; notes discounted at the bank, certificates of deposit, collaterals, collections, exchanging money, individual depositors, deposits from the State, from United States, par, currency, difference in deal with depositors, &c., &c. All our practice in book-keeping is from MANUSCRIPT DAY BOOKS.

COMMERCIAL PROBLEMS.—(Some that have not been solved by other teachers of book-keeping,) illustrating the principle involved in buying and selling stocks at a certain rate per cent. on the purchase, allowing for the use of money seven per cent.; trading stocks that declare different dividends, receiving money at a discount as payment for the balance; adjusting lost time and over time between partners; in short, over three hundred practical business computations.

We have counted our words, and find that we have but little space to speak of Lectures and Penmanship.

LECTURES.—on the varied duties of an accountant, the nature of accounts, commercial law, business customs, the laws of health, and the philosophy of mental culture.

PENMANSHIP.—on the ANALYTICAL SYSTEM, originated by Wm. Henry Dean, of N. Y. city in 1804, in every conceivable style, without the aid of lithographed copies. The Principal holds, that parents laying out money in this direction greatly profit their children, and ornament society.
